

talent bios

Erika Csiszer

Social Media Host, "Un Nuevo Día"

Erika Csiszer currently serves as the social media host on Telemundo's "Un Nuevo Día" for the popular segment "Me lo Dijo un Pajarito" and the newly created 360-degree interactive multiplatform studio "La Vuelta," among others. Before joining the morning show, she was a co-host of the network's sports entertainment program "Titulares y Más," in addition to her work as a Telemundo.com digital reporter for "La Voz Kids," "Latin Billboards Music Awards," "Premios Tu Mundo" and the "Latin American Music Awards," among others.

Erika began working as a production assistant at Venevisión TV network in 2003 on shows like "24 horas," "Entorno 4," "Magno Evento Miss Venezuela" and "Super Sábado Sensacional." She later became a producer for the network's newscast and "Programa Estrenos y Estrellas," where she got her first on-air experience as a reporter.

Besides her role in Telemundo, Erika has been featured in various music videos, including "Mariana" by the Colombian singer Micky Ferrer, and "Mi Chica Ideal" by Chino y Nacho. Daughter of a Venezuelan father and Hungarian mother, she studied journalism, advertising and marketing at the University of Santa Maria in her native Venezuela, and she is the youngest of three sisters.